About the Conference

CoalMint's Asia Coal Outlook & Trade Summit will focus not only on the day-to-day dynamics of the global coal market but the underlying trends that could make a long-term impact. From the impact of geopolitical conflicts and altered trade dynamics to sustainability paradigms and the upheavals in the world energy market, the conference will witness engaging discussions on the topics which are at the core of the energy transition. Delegates can look forward to informative sessions on disruptive mining technologies, hedging and risk management, the evolution of carbon trading and its significance and the impact of decarbonisation on the mining and shipping industries. The focus, as always, will be on intense knowledge sharing and interpersonal interaction.

The 'Asian Century'

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) forecasts the continent's growth at 5.3% in 2023. Is it possible to imagine that growth sans coal? For Asian coal consumers, the challenge is to ensure energy security while conforming to sustainability paradigms. The future of metallurgical coal and coke also revolves around Asia, the epicentre of global steel production.

Why Asia?

4.9% GDP growth

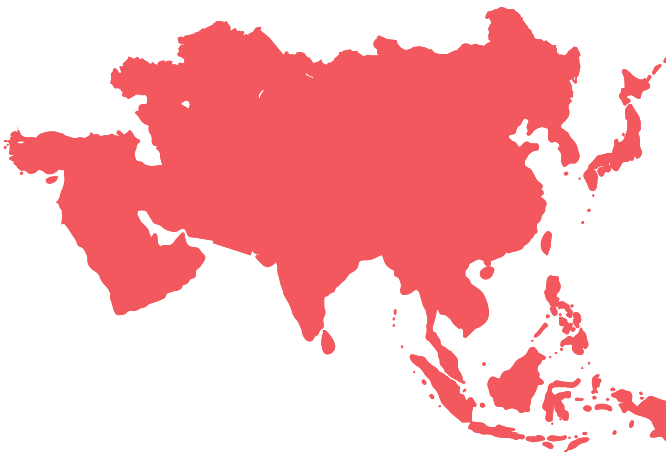

1.3 Terawatts coal-fired power capacity

4.75 Billion population

60% of global coal production of 7,900 MnT

75% of global non coking coal consumption

80% of global coking coal consumption

Key Focus Areas

Coking Coal

- ✓ China's top coal supplier Mongolia switches to auctions. How will this impact coking coal market?
- ✓ How are global steel mills changing their fuel mix to tackle carbon emissions?
- ✓ Global coking coal demand may fall 15-20% by 2030
- ✓ How is hydrogen gaining momentum in the Chinese steel industry?
- ✓ Is Indonesia going to be the world's largest met coke exporter by 2025?

Non-Coking Coal

- ✓ As India's Domestic Coal Production Increases, Will India's Coal Imports Decrease In Short To Medium Term?
- ✓ Changing dynamics of Indonesian coal exports
- ✓ How is coal demand panning out in emerging markets such as Vietnam, Pakistan, Bangladesh
- ✓ Sanctions on Russia and its pivot towards the East

Pricing Picture

- ✓ Price outlook for non-coking and coking coal markets in short to medium term
- ✓ Effective hedging strategies to mitigate price risk

Future Trends

- ✓ What are carbon markets and why are they important?
- ✓ Disruptive mining technologies and decarbonisation in mining
- ✓ Increasing usage of biomass in Japan's coal-based power plants

Shipping & Freights

- ✓ Have dry bulk freight rates bottomed out? Predictive analysis
- ✓ Climate change – Challenge for Shipping
